A MODISH SKIRT.

Admirably suited to development in any of the soft materials of this season, this skirt will be found both fashionable and serviceable.

For a woman of average size four yards of 48-inch or the same quantity of 64-inch material will be required to make this skirt.

The foundation may be put together very simply, by closing the seams and adding the flounce. For the applied skirt, gather the upper edge between double "T" perforations. Turn hem at lower edge on small "o" perforations. Adjust to position on foundation, stitching upper edges together, centers even; bring the three small "o" perforations at side edge to corresponding perforations in front gore and tuck.

Now, pleat upper edge of the pannier, bringing "T" to corresponding small "o" perforations, forming inverted pleat at hip. Close seam under center-back seams, leaving back seam free above double "oo" perforations for placket and leave edges free below small "o" perforations. Arrange on foundation, centers even; stitch upper edges together. Bring single large "O" perforation in panier to corresponding perforation in back gore and tack. Adjust a webbing or a straight strip of canvas two inches wide to position underneath upper edge of skirt for a stay; stitch upper edges together. A belt of silk to match the skirt material finishes the waist.

BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT IS STARTED IN TURKEY

Troop Leaders Have Been Sworn in and Enver Pasha Will Be Chief Scout.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 27.—The Boy Scout movement has been initiated here with the swearing in of the troop leaders before Enver Pasha, who, it is understood, is to be made the Bashogh, or chief scout of Turkey.

The movement is part of a far-reaching plan to rejuvenate Turkey. On the patriotic side, the members, with the support of the young Turks, will try to purge the language of foreign words which have corrupted the Turkish of the border into more or less of a jargon. On the military and civic side the government hopes not only to popularize army service among the educated classes but to develop initiative and flexibility among the people so as to compete more favorably with western peoples.

It is significant that in the oath taken by the boys the Arabic word for God "Allah," has yielded to the Turkish "Tengri." All names used in the organization, such as Isdijis for "scouts," and Oimaks Begs for "leaders," are pure Turkish. The word for leader in official use has heretofore been "boy."

The young Turks, and many of the older men, believe that the country's decline has been largely due to Persian and Byzantine influence. They hope to teach the youth to remember the racial origin of the people who once came near subduing Europe.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

At a night session of the criminal court Friday, a jury in the case against Dora Gay Davis, charged with setting fire to one of John F. Mason's houses at Industrial returned a verdict of not guilty. The jury had the case several hours.

SALVATION ARMY DELEGATES ARE DISAPPOINTED

American Embassy Flies No Flag and Page Doesn't Even Shake Hands.

LONDON, June 27.—The American ambassador, Dr. Walter Hines Page, came near being charged with lack of patriotism by the seven hundred American Salvation Army delegates on their official visit to him, but the misunderstanding was cleared by one of the embassy clerks.

The Salvationists made an American patriotic display on this occasion as has been rarely seen in London. Bands played American patriotic tunes, the American colors alternated with the Salvation Army banners and each of the paraders waved a small American flag as they marched through Victoria street past the window at which stood Dr. Page. The chief officers then paid a formal call on His Excellency. But in the matter of bunting, the embassy might as well have been one of the big shops alongside.

"Where is the American flag?" asked one of the officers in a grumbled tone of one of the clerks. "Our parade was simply ablaze with 'Old Glory,' and there isn't a single flag displayed at the embassy to welcome us. It doesn't look patriotic."

The clerk explained that the flag of the embassy has purely ceremonial duties to perform rather than patriotic or ornamental, and is displayed only on instructions from the State department at Washington.

This explanation was passed around and seemed to satisfy the patriotic scruples of the visitors.

On account of the comparatively small quarters American diplomats without large private means necessarily maintain in foreign countries, Dr. Page was unable to invite the salvationists to his home, and the embassy itself is likewise cramped. A reception in the street would have lacked dignity, so the delegates felt a disappointment in not being able to shake hands with him. They had been rather spoiled on their way over, they said, by Colonel Roosevelt, who fraternized with them, stood in snap shot groups and answered to the familiar titles of "Colonel" and "Teddy."

The American salvationists, who have been visiting London in parties, speak highly of their courteous treatment by the people.

BURIED

Egyptian City is Discovered in Recent Explorations in the Nile Valley.

LONDON, June 27.—Recent exploration in the Nile Valley has resulted in the discovery of a buried Egyptian city as well preserved as Pompeii, according to the Rev. Professor A. H. Sayce, the famous Egyptologist, in an address at the Royal Society. The discovery was made by Professor Garstang, investigating Meroe. Walls fifteen feet thick surrounded a royal city containing two palaces, public baths, gymnasia, streets and private dwellings. Trees set in pits lined with brick bordered the streets, and walls, quays and landing stages were built along the river front. This city was the center of the iron industry of the time, and the slag from the smelting furnaces show that enough metal was worked there to supply the whole of northern Africa.

An observatory at the bottom of an underground bathing establishment, found by Professor Garstang, is of interest to modern science, as its walls were covered with astronomical calculations.

ART

Collection to Be Thrown on the Market as a Result of Banking Firm's Failure.

LONDON, June 27.—The failure of the banking firm of Chaplin, Milne, Grenfell and Company, which shook the financial district recently, will result in an important art collection of old masters being thrown on the market, at which wealthy American collectors are expected to be lively bidders. The collection to be auctioned at Christie's for the benefit of the creditors of Arthur M. Grenfell, includes the portrait of the Countess of Chesterfield by Van Dyck, formerly hung at Blenheim Palace, and a portrait of a man in a red cap ascribed to Titian.

The Dutch and Flemish schools are represented by Bol, Brecklenk, Cuyp, Dow, Pieter Dubordieu and Wouvermans, and the English by portraits from the brushes of Sir Joshua Reynolds and Sir Thomas Lawrence. The only modern picture is G. F. Watt's "A Greek Idyll."

Much public interest is excited over the Titian, which has been auctioned several times by Christie's, for the uncertainty of its authorship makes it more or less of a gamble.

The former site of the United States mint in Philadelphia sold for $31,000 in 1830; now it is assessed for $3,100,000.
